March 2026

A man tied his horse to a post. Later, the Devil came along and quietly set the horse free.

The horse wandered into a farmer's field and began trampling the crops.

Furious, the farmer grabbed his rifle and shot the horse.

When the horse's owner saw what happened, he became enraged. He took his own gun and killed the farmer out of revenge.

The farmer's wife, seeing her husband dead, picked up an axe and killed the horse's owner.

Then the owner's son, driven by anger, killed the farmer's wife.

The neighbors, horrified by the bloodshed, turned on the young man and burned his house to the ground.

When people asked the Devil why he had done all this, he replied calmly:

"I didn't do anything. I only set the horse free."

Moral:

The Devil doesn't need to do much — just a small, innocent-looking act. The rest, we do ourselves.

He knows evil is already hiding in human hearts.
That's why it's so important to think before you act.
Remember: your words and your choices carry power.
Pause before you speak — and before you strike.

In Christian love,

Donna Goes Walkabout

20 days until Spring....but who's counting? We are!! I really love living in a 4 season part of the country. I lived in Los Angeles for a while many years ago and one of the things I missed was the turning of the seasons. Oh yeah, it got a little cooler as you moved into winter but it never did feel like a new season. Soooo, I like the seasons. And yes I like snow. I don't mind driving in snow. And many years ago, I went to a ranch up in New York state so I could do a trail ride on horseback IN THE SNOW. Now that was cool. In my radio days, I loved the fact that on a snowy day, it was my JOB to travel thru the snow to the radio station to get on the radio and tell everyone else to STAY HOME. LOL. (I still felt the urge to do that quite often this winter!) Yes I like snow. And we certainly had our share of snow here in Delaware this winter, but.....

right now I am ready for spring. And every bit of it, is God's plan. The Bible mentions seasons in several verses including Ecclesiastes 3:1-2 which says " For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven; a time to be born, a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted." We are approaching the season of re-birth and growth. We are so excited to begin planning what we'd like to plant in our yard and garden, and then watch God make it all grow so beautifully.

It is the season of re-birth too as we continue through Lent with Holy Week coming at the end of the month. Ad then the celebration of Christ's resurrection on Easter morning April 5. I hope you mark your calendar for Holy week services and our annual Easter Sunrise Service.

That's all for this month. I'll see you on Sunday morning.

United Methodist Women

The ladies met after church on February 15th for our monthly meeting with 12 ladies in attendance. It was reported that the Soup Sale at the beginning of the month was a big success with about 55 quarts being sold. It was discussed and voted on to donate $500 of these proceeds to The Friendship Star Quilters to purchase batting for the quilts that they assemble. We are happy to support this worthwhile mission. Under New Business we tabled refreshment details for the Easter Sunrise Service and will finalize them at the March meeting. Other business discussed was the Women of Hope Banquet. All the ladies were asked to bring their suggestions of a beneficiary for the banquet to the March meeting and once again the men will help with serving the meal. With no other comments from the group, the meeting was adjourned and we will meet again after service on March 8th.
